

RFMW Announces 10 Year Anniversary

RFMW, Ltd.

San Jose, CA -- RFMW Ltd. [1], July 1, 2013 will mark the 10-year anniversary of their company. With worldwide headquarters in San Jose, CA. and sales offices throughout North America, Europe and the Middle East, the company has seen a continual acceptance of their “niche” philosophy in that “RFMW, Ltd. is a specialty electronics distribution company focused on RF and Microwave technology”.

“We’re truly humbled by the trust our customers and suppliers have in RFMW. It’s been an exciting 10 years that’s gone by very fast and has seen tremendous changes in our organization and the industry. However, some things will never change and those are our dedication to service and our continuing commitment to provide our customers with applicable products that support their design and production efforts”, said Joel Levine, president of RFMW, Ltd. “From our humble beginnings in the back room of a supplier’s warehouse, we’ve grown into a worldwide distributor with our own corporate headquarters, 4 stocking locations and a technically supportive sales organization that stretches into Europe and the Middle East.”

“This milestone is a testament to the dedication of our people, both customer facing and corporate support who, on a daily basis, create an atmosphere where customers and suppliers are served at the highest levels” stated Steve Takaki, vice president of RFMW. “As we head into the next 10 years, we’ll grow and change to build upon our success and become an even more valuable partner.”
