

Patch Antenna Elements

Spectrum Control offers its surface-mount patch antenna elements with an extended frequency range of 500 MHz to 6 GHz and a greater number of sizes. This extended frequency range allows these components to be used in numerous mobile, portable and handheld applications. These elements are optimized for ground plane, making them ideal for sensitive electronic devices where maximizing performance is essential.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/30/2015 - 4:35pm):

<http://www.wirelessdesignmag.com/product-releases/2002/07/patch-antenna-elements>