Plastic Packaging

Published on Wireless Design & Development (http://www.wirelessdesignmag.com)

Plastic Packaging

Motorola introduces a high frequency RF plastic package capable of operating a junction temperature of up to 200°C. Advantages of this packaging include: alternative solutions to metal-ceramic packaging; surface-mount technology (SMT) solutions for high power RF devices; lower system thermal management costs; automated assembly of RF power amplifiers.

www.motorola.com;

Source URL (retrieved on 03/11/2014 - 12:46pm):

http://www.wirelessdesignmag.com/product-releases/2003/10/plastic-packaging

Page 1 of 1