

Fingernail Display Technology for Future Touch Screens

Thomas Reuters

Researchers in Taiwan are developing a remote control system that will turn fingernails into mini-display screens. Using wirelessly-enabled, light emitting diodes, the team says the technology could revolutionize the way we control and use devices such as smartphones and tablets. Ben Gruber reports.

For more information visit <http://thomsonreuters.com> [1].

Source URL (retrieved on 01/31/2015 - 12:50pm):

<http://www.wirelessdesignmag.com/videos/2013/03/fingernail-display-technology-future-touch-screens>

Links:

[1] <http://thomsonreuters.com>